A Charge Made Against Sergt, Mc-Donald in the Hannan Case.

Roundsman Mathew F. Datley, of the Delancey street police station, in the Essex Market Court, this morning waived further examination on the charge of assault preferred against him by pretty sixteen-year-old Mamie Hannan, and was held in $2,500 ball for the action of the Grand Jury.

Dailey's examination was begun Tuesday. when Assistant District-Attorney Macdona closed the case for the people with the testimony of Lizzie Lawlor, the important witness whose whereabouts were discovered by an Evening World man after Police Captain Eakins had repeatedly declared that he had been unable to locate her.

Miss Lawlor's testimony was invaluable to the people's side of the case, as it fully cor-

Neither Lizzie Lawlor nor Sergt, McDonald was at Essex Market Court when Justice Taintor called Dailey's case this morning. Dailey, still on duty and in full uniform, was present, however, and appeared to derive considerable comfort from the argument of charge from custody.

Mamie Hannan, her mother and Capt. Enkins were in court, as was also a representative of Lawyer Frank Moss, of Dr. Parkhurst's society. Capt. Eaking had with him the station-house blotter, which, it was supposed, would be used in the attempt to prove an alibi for both Dalley and McDonald. The paper in which it was wrapped, however, was not removed.

When the case was reached Lawyer Emanuel M. Friend, of Levy, briend & House, Datley's counsel, inquired for Lizzle Lawlor, saying that he wished to cross-examine her Assistant District-Attorney Macdona explained that he had not subposused her, as he supposed the defense had finished with persons.

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, I NEWARK, N. J., June 2 .- The third day of the trial of sixteen-year-old Robert Alden Pales for the murder of Cashler Thomas Haydon in the hallway of the Potter Bleaching Company, 13 Mulberry street April 30 last, opened this morning before Judge Depue in the Essex County Court of Over and Terminer, with loseph Battey, a companion of the accused lad, on the witness stand.

Despite the excessive heat there was a big crowd of spectators, many of whom were women. Fales occupied his seat alongside his counsel, Judge Henry and Lawyer Frank McDermott, and his mother sat behind him. Young Battey testified that he had known Fales intimately for two years. The evening of April 30 he saw Fales three times-at 7.30 o'clock, at 10.30 and 11.15, when they went home together.

The witness asked Fales: "Did you hear that Haydon was robbed to-day ?"

Mr. Assectated Parasa i

Detroit, Mich., June 2.— The steamers Britain and Progress, both of Cleveland, collided at the mouth of the Detroit River, between Grassy and Fighting Islands, at 12.25 o'clock this morning.

The Progress sank immediately, but the Britain, which was comparatively uninjured, Britain, which was comparatively uninjured, printing, which was comparatively uninjured, returned to this city. All the crew of the sunken steamer were taken off in safety. Steamer Striain, owned by the Mechoninee Transit Company, was bound down with a cargo of ore, while the Progress, owned by the Schlesinger Syndicate, was bound up, loaded with coal.

About two years ago he was again injured in the head by a failing brick. She did not notice any results from the injuries.

On the morning of April 30, Mrs. Fales saw Aiden at breakfast, after which he left the house with the ostensible purpose of going to work.

Towards 11 o'clock he returned home and inquired when his dinner would be ready. He went up to his room and came down a few moments later with a pistol wrapped in two $10 bills.
